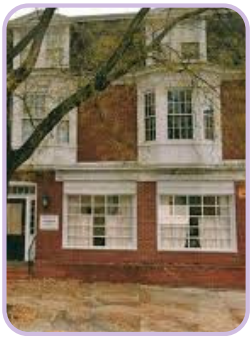
RESTORE HOPE INITIATIVE UPDATES:

ACCESSIBLE HOUSING



Our most important need now is to ensure that men, women, and families have a place to live. The deficit in affordable low-income housing, and especially in rental units accepting housing vouchers, is growing, as fewer and fewer landlords are accepting housing vouchers. According to the National Low Income Housing Coalition, only 37 affordable rental units are available for every 100 low-income renters. Of all the concerns addressed by ARM, the need for affordable housing is the most acute.

Our comprehensive approach to addressing low-income housing in Adams County demonstrates a proactive and innovative strategy, including securing funding to purchase properties, partnering with landlords for risk mitigation through subletting, and building collaborative relationships with other organizations to expand housing availability. This multifaceted model not only increases attainable housing options, but also fosters sustainable community solutions, showing a strong commitment to resolving the housing deficit through creative, partnership-driven efforts.

AFFORDABLE CHILDCARE

Affordable childcare is in crisis in Adams County. The typical waiting period of 18 months and the weekly cost of $260/child for licensed child care prevents parents from getting the training, the education, and the jobs that will allow them to live and work independently.

ARM, in collaboration with other Adams County non-profits, hopes to open four licensed childcare centers over the next two years to address this dilemma. These centers will accommodate up to 12 children each. We are accepting applications for children ages one through registered kindergarteners. The program is designed to give low-income mothers and families affordable options to better their life circumstances through employment and/or education.

SINGLE WOMEN'S SHELTER PROGRAM

The lack of a dedicated women's shelter in Adams County highlights a significant gap in resources for single women seeking refuge, as evidenced by the eight to ten inquiries received monthly by ARM. This situation underscores the urgent need for supportive services facilities tailored to the specific needs of women in crisis within the community. Adams Rescue Mission, partnering with Chapel Hill Church of God, will repurpose a parsonage in York Springs, PA, into a communal living space for up to ten single women.

ARM RELIES ON GRANTS AND OUR DEDICATED DONORS SUCH AS LOCAL CHURCHES AND YOURSELVES. ALL THIS IS POSSIBLE DUE TO THE GENEROSITY OF OUR COMMUNITY, CHURCHES, FOUNDATIONS, AND INDIVIDUAL SUPPORTERS.

ARM'S GIVE BACK PROGRAM:

OUR RESIDENT GUESTS AND STAFF HAVE EMBARKED ON A JOURNEY OF COMMUNITY SERVICE IN WHICH THEY PERFORM COMMUNITY SERVICE PROJECTS, LOGGING IN OVER 2,800 HOURS SINCE ITS INCEPTION WITH MUCH MORE TO COME.
WE BELIEVE IN GIVING BACK TO THE COMMUNITY THAT GIVES SO MUCH FOR US!
